Food Waste Solution Boosts Hotel's Green Credentials

Multi-award winning Thornton Hall Hotel and Spa becomes the first hotel on Merseyside to invest in a money saving sustainable food waste solution that is already having a major impact reducing waste costs.

Geoff Dale, Thornton Hall Hotel General Manager explains: "With waste costs spiralling we wanted to find another way of dealing with our food waste, and the Waste₂O™ is an excellent eco friendly solution. It's the Waste₂O's simplicity as much as anything else."

- Safely treating over 1,000kg a week of food waste
- Massive carbon reduction
- Waste disposal costs reduced significantly
- Over 40,000 litres of water returned to the water table

The leading Wirral hotel aims to be the greenest in the region and has invested in the Waste₂O Food Waste Digester saving money on waste costs and ensuring food waste does not have to go to landfill. Geoff Dale explains the simplicity: "There has been no change in the way we work using the Waste₂O so the kitchen staff have found it easy to make this massive difference to the environment. The Waste₂O has also made it easier to separate other recyclable waste streams.

"By not having our food waste collected to be disposed of elsewhere, we're also saving on transportation and therefore our carbon footprint. We are very conscious of our responsibilities to the environment and are aiming to be the greenest hotel in the region.

"Coupled with the Waste₂O we are achieving real carbon reductions & cost savings."

General Manager

"To achieve this we have implemented a robust green policy which includes switching over all our light bulbs to LED and installing a liquid cover on our swimming pool, which has slashed our heating costs dramatically. Coupled with the Waste₂O we are achieving real carbon reductions & cost savings."
